[Part 2]

The Moses Controversy mocks God's Word many times.

Biblical Christianity is under attack by many scoffers trying to imitate Christian leaders, and pretending they are Christians. They are ignorant of God's Word, the Truth. The latest Christian documentary was called "The Moses Controversy". The man traveled east to learn if Moses could read and write, but God's Word says "Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians". The movie's story line follows evolution thinking searching when man evolved enough to read and write, pretending to be sincerely looking for truth while they insult God and God's servants. The ending tells the whole story, after many insults, they had a five man panel of mockers. These five were Timothy Mahoney (who wrote and narrated the documentary, Todd Starnes of Fox News fame (who moderated the discussions afterward), Os Guinness (an Anglican representative who is prominent in the Lausanne Vatican 2 Movement), Reverend A. R. Bernard of Brooklyn (who hosted the discussion and premier at his Christian Cultural Center), and Michael Medved (talk show host and Jewish political analyst). In the middle, Os Guinness mumbling a few empty statements but the most interesting thing he did was (and the camera man made sure we could see) he made hand signals. Six times, or maybe five times, Os did the hand signal for 'all seeing eye' (which no doubt is his regular relaxed hand position) and once was combined with double devil's horns and one time he was also twiddling his thumbs lightly.

Let's look briefly at these five spokesmen and then we'll look at the "experts" who were referenced:

- In addition to his work with the Anglican Church and Lausanne Movement, Os Guinness works for Ravi Zacharias who also supports Catholic leadership over the "church" and regularly speaks at international leadership meetings and conferences working toward one-world religion. Guinness was a signer in 1994 of the Evangelicals and Catholics Together. And Os Guinness was impressed with Pope John Paul II apologizing in Israel on behalf of "Christians" who were complicit to Nazi crimes and thought it was of world-historic significance. Yeah, it is significant for the Pope to admit that his followers participated in the crimes of World War 2, but he would not dare reveal most of the crimes that they actually participated in. No one would ever follow the Vatican if they really knew. Guinness was also a leader at Francis Schaeffer's L'Abri community, a past fellow with the Woodrow Wilson Center and visiting fellow at the Brookings Institute. He is a senior fellow at the Oxford Centre for Christian Apologetics.

-A. R. Bernard is "pastor" of Christian Cultural Center as New York's biggest megachurch. Bernard is a former member of Louis Farrakhan's Nation of Islam movement – which he later renounced as a threat to America when he came to Christ under Nicky Cruz's ministry. Cruz is a long-time friend of the late false prophet and secret Jesuit mafia leader David Wilkerson. Bernard was appointed to the Board of Directors of the New York Public Library and New York City Economic Development by eugenicist promoter and billionaire NYC former mayor Michael Bloomberg. Bernard counts Jesse Jackson and Al Sharpton as friends who have regularly lied about agendas to control and abuse the African-Americans under the Free-mason directed traps in society. Bernard was also on Trump's Religious Advisory Board for about a year until August 2017. Bernard is President of New York City Council of Churches and a former board member and treasurer for the Christian Men's Network.

Todd Starnes is also author of four books including The Deplorables' Guide to Making America Great Again. The only reason someone would write a book like this with this format is to mock Christians in America; and somehow the Christians don't even see it, because they are told by their elders that this is how to push back against the "opposition", which they are taught to think is led by liberal democrats. To match that, Starnes has very disgusting and distorted opinions about people that he expresses to keep his position of power in the ranks of the "conservative" provocateurs who use these tactics to stay in favor of the Jesuits and Masons who hate Christians.

Michael Medved wrote a book in 1979 on the Chiefs of Staff of the Presidents of the United States since 1857 onward. To do so he interviewed many influential people and chiefs of staff. During this process he also befriended Gerald Ford's Chief of Staff Dick Cheney who later became Vice President to George W. Bush. All four of these men are Yale graduates and at least a couple of them are Yale Skull and Bones and Freemason secret society members. Gerald Ford's Vice President was Nelson Rockefeller – founder of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund to control education and especially seminaries and Bible colleges for one-world religion and one-world government.

Timothy Mahoney got his break by doing "Behind the Scenes" specials for Billy Graham's World Wide Pictures. <https://thebestschools.org/features/timothy-mahoney-interview/> His other partnerships with Os Guinness and A. R. Bernard and his "experts" (that we highlight at the last part of this article) explain who he serves. Someone should really do some research on his Exodus film, after you see how he wants to do "evidence" of the Bible. But for now, let's correct the premise of this corrupt lie about Moses. Mahoney suggests near the end that Moses may have been the first to magically gain the ability to read and write by combination of verbal education by the Egyptians and a sudden God-given skill to invent language and writing which he pretends had never before existed. The rest of the film leading up to this point (long drawn-out, repetitious programming) was to suggest that all written language goes back to a Proto-Siniatic or Proto-Canaanite or Proto-Hebraic writing and alphabet. He settles on Old Hebrew being the first written language which he uses "expert" comparisons to make them look similar to Phoenician and Egyptian writing. His conclusion is that all Scripture before that was verbal only, but because of the need to free Israel from slavery in Egypt and give them a strong leadership to follow, therefore Moses needed strong media skills to lead Israel. So God invented writing and taught it to Moses on Mount Sinai with the Ten Commandments written on tablets of stone. Apparently, they believe this all happened during the stone age. But let's look at what the Scriptures say actually happened.

Look at Genesis 1:31 "Then God saw everything that He had made, and indeed it was very good." Then Gen.2:19-20 teaches "Out of the ground the Lord God formed every beast of the field and every bird of the air, and brought them to Adam to see what he would call them. And whatever Adam called each living creature, that was its name. So Adam gave names to all cattle, to the birds of the air, and to every beast of the field." Adam was the smartest human who ever lived, the early genetics were perfect before the fall, and were still almost perfect after the fall of mankind into sin. Adam named each of the animals, and remembered them, and maybe wrote them down.

I believe all of the families and peoples spoke Hebrew until the Tower of Babel, then the judgment of God scattered their languages, so we believe the premise of Old Hebrew being the first writings probably is accurate. The rebel families lost their Hebrew language, and God gave them a new language and they had to learn how to write their new language. I'm convinced that many of the early fathers who honored God kept records of children's birth's and ages of death. We know God can do anything, and there are several ways God could have given us the family records. We know God could have spoken all of those details of Genesis to Moses and had Moses write it all down. But I'm convinced that the names and ages in Gen. 5 were written by the fathers. I believe that Noah wrote many of the notes in Gen. 6, 7, 8 & 9. I believe that Gen. 10 & 11 is a combination of several collections of notes. I'm sure all of the families (not just the godly families) kept records, and lots of records of good and bad events, but mostly useless info. The honorable families kept their records with their elders which were passed on to each generation, and a large load of these records went down to Egypt with Jacob/Israel when he went down to Egypt.

Many of those records are records of sins and rebellion against God as it progressed rapidly after the fall into sin. Moses worked on writing Genesis while the children of Israel were wandering in the Desert of Sin. Moses sorted through all of those notes and kept the most useful information, and God helped Moses decide what to keep and how to reformat the info. Obviously Abraham wrote the note of Gen. chapters 12-25. Isaac or Rebekah probably wrote the notes Moses used for Gen.26, 27, then Jacob/Israel wrote the notes used for Gen. chapters 28 to 35. Rebekah probably wrote the notes used for Gen. 36. I'm going to stop here, but you get my point. The only reason for this type of argument that Mahoney is making is to suggest that man had to evolve. Whereas, if you look at the Bible, you see that sin has degraded the earth and we have actually devolved and lost abilities. Obviously new technology seems to contradict this, but the truth is that only the wealthy had technology in the past and God hindered the greedy and vile from working together to build dangerous tech that would allow an anti-christ kingdom. It's exactly the same work God did by confusing the languages at the Tower of Babel, otherwise we would have had dominant over-powering world government all the way back then.

Earlier generations had the writings of Enoch referred to in Hebrews 11:5 and Jude 1:14. Apparently the Vatican took all of the known writings of Enoch and replaced it with their own rewrite of Enoch. So copies of the original Book of Enoch are probably hidden in the underground vaults in Rome. They control most of the artifacts and history of the world, and the victors write the history. The Jesuits have had their hand in rewriting false religion and education and art and politics and the use of the imagination since the 1500's. They always have their followers who will help write things to mock the Scriptures and record history with that distorted perception. I'm sure a well studied expert could nit-pick something I said in this quick note, but I didn't write this page for them. I wrote these thoughts for brethren who are trying to understand God's Word. Even looking at Genesis 10:32-11:1, about the Tower of Babel shows that two separate descriptions (language and speech) are given to language back then – written genealogical records and verbal language: "These were the families of the sons of Noah, according to the genealogical records, in their nations; and from these the nations were divided on the earth after the flood. Now the whole earth continued to have one language and one speech. Genesis 10:32-11:1

Finally, have a look at some of the "experts" that Timothy Mahoney partnered with and you can see that these people are not trustworthy in regard to bias in altering history or verifying the truths of the Bible:

David Rohl – Distinguished Research Professor at Liberty University
Author of Exodus – Myth or History

Dr. Randall Price – Distinguished Research Professor at Liberty University
Co-director of the Qumran Caves Excavation Project
The Dominicans and Jesuits were and are prominent in the excavation of Qumran Caves Excavations

Donald Redford – Egyptologist Penn State University

Author of Egypt, Canaan, and Israel in Ancient Times

Donald was also editor-in-chief of the Oxford Encyclopedia of Ancient Egypt (2001)

<http://cams.la.psu.edu/directory/dbr3>

Douglass Knight – Professor Emeritus of Hebrew Bible at Vanderbilt Divinity School

Co-author of The Meaning of The Bible

Vanderbilt is a merger of Methodist founding (from which they detached more than 100 years ago) with the Atlanta Theological Seminary (merger in 1929) which was United Church of Christ with close relationship to its sister denomination Disciples of Christ. This is the network that built Contemporary Christian music to reduce the value of truth in church music – a plan that worked efficiently to help destroy American churches.

Peter J. Gentry – Professor of Old Testament Interpretation at The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary

Author of Kingdom Through Covenant

Duane Garrett – Professor of Old Testament Interpretation at The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary

Author of Rethinking Genesis

The Southern Baptist Seminary houses the Jenkins Center for Understanding Islam; the Billy Graham School of Missions, Evangelism, and Ministry; and in 1970 it also helped establish one of the first multi-religious theological consortiums with Presbyterian, Wesleyan Methodist, Disciples of Christ, Roman Catholic, and Baptist seminaries represented – The Theological Education Association of Mid-America. Their funding for the Louisville campus came from John D. Rockefeller and partners. Between Billy Graham's and John Rockefeller's Jesuit and Freemason leadership, the school has a long history of one-world religion relationships including leadership in several United Nations NGO's.

Jodi Magness – Distinguished Professor of Early Judaism at University of North Carolina – Chapel Hill

Chapel Hill is where Distinguished Professor of Religious Studies Bart Ehrman has taught for more than thirty years and he dominates the scoffing atmosphere on campus. Anyone who teaches there has to comply with his scoffing, so why even both bringing someone like this into the discussion?

We hope you've found this information helpful for knowing to warn against false "scholarship" such as this. And we also hope you have seen why we are very concerned of why 'Answers in Genesis' couldn't (or didn't) read God's Word enough to see right through the Vatican/Rockefeller lies here. Please share
